Statement of Faculty Senate Action:

APC Document 2: Return MUSC 383 to Catalog with Change of Description

Effective Date: Fall 2014

1. Add: On page 230, MUSC 383:

383 Music Industry and Business II (3)

Continued study of the music business through community-based project learning. Students complete several real-world based projects and discuss their experiences with colleagues in a seminar-style classroom setting. Prerequisite: MUSC 382. Odd years Spring.

Impact: With the addition of our Jazz and Contemporary Music colleagues, we now have the personnel resources needed to staff this course.

Rationale: This course was “sunset” several years ago because of limited faculty resources. Since its discontinuation, there has been significant student interest in the revitalization of this course by students wishing advanced content following completion of our popular Music Industry and Business I (MUSC 382) offering.
