Date of Senate Approval 03/19/15

Statement of Faculty Senate Action:

APC Document 34 (HIST):
(revised)

Delete HIST 308, 311, 367 and 368

Effective Date: Fall 2015

1. Delete: On page 165, the entry for HIST 308:

308 The United States Since 1945 (3)

An intensive study of America's recent history, the course covers the period from the end of World War II through the Cold War to contemporary society. See department chair.

2. Delete: On page 166, the entry for HIST 311:

311 Foreign Relations of the United States (3)

Historical development of American foreign policy and diplomatic relations, with attention to the interplay between isolationism and expansion, realism and idealism, and the emergence of the nation as a world power. See department chair.

3. Delete: On page 167, the entry for HIST 367:

367 Tsarist Russia (3)

Covers the rise of Russian civilization in the Kievan period, the consolidation of the Muscovite state, the origins of Imperial Russia, as well as the 19th-century autocracy and its revolutionary opponents. See department chair.

4. Delete: On page 167, the entry for HIST 368:

368 20th-Century Russia (3)

Covers the political, international, economic, social and cultural history of Russia, from the reign of Nicholas II and the era of revolutions, to the break-up of the Soviet regime and the attempted transition to democracy and capitalism. See department chair.

Impact: This change will have no known negative impact on the History major, minor and university requirements. These changes will not affect the department's staffing or resource needs. See Appendix I and II.

Rationale: We no longer have the staffing and faculty expertise to teach these courses, so they need to be removed from the catalog.
